About Alexandra and the School Pack

Alexandra Borghino is a children's writer-illustrator musician, performer, theatre maker, and producer. With over 10 years of experience working with children, she delivers engaging drawing and creative writing workshops in primary schools through after-school clubs.

Since September 2025, Alexandra has been leading a popular drawing club for P2–P7 pupils at Gillespie Primary School, running twice-weekly sessions for groups of 15–20 children. Her workshops are designed to build confidence, creativity, and storytelling skills in a fun and supportive environment.

As part of the second-term programme, Alexandra introduced a project she is especially passionate about: creating a collaborative children's book.

Pupils develop their own stories through both writing and illustration, contributing to a shared publication.

At the end of the year, each child receives a copy of the finished book to take home, a meaningful and lasting celebration of their work.

What Alexandra Offers to Schools

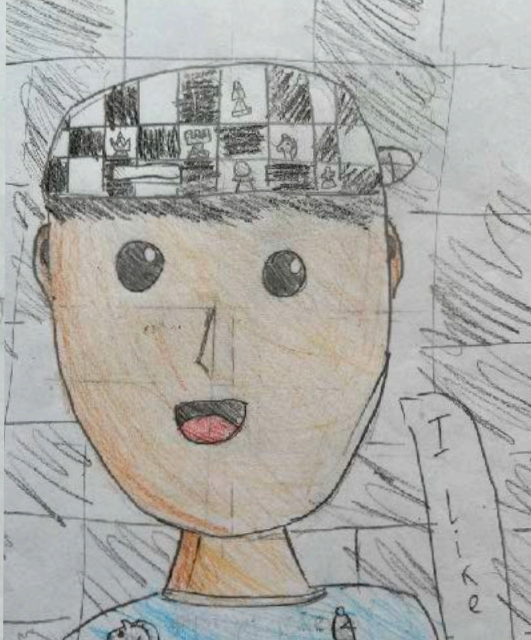

After-school classes for primary pupils (P2–P7)

Sessions run for 1 hour after school 3.30–4.30, with groups of 15–20 children.

Alexandra requires access to a classroom space and manages bookings directly with parents, keeping administration minimal for schools.

Workshops are typically priced at £9–£10 per child per session.

What The Pupils Create

Parents Feedback

“Alexandra is a fun and supportive teacher who has shared great tips and techniques to improve Maeve’s drawing. She’s enjoyed doing the self portraits in particular. We’d definitely recommend the classes.”

“Ellen has really been enjoying the drawing club—thank you so much for providing such a lovely experience for her.”

“We’ve definitely seen Aron’s interest in art increase, he has always enjoyed drawing and colouring in but he’s a lot more confident now in doing something from scratch than he used to be. He looks forward to Mondays!”

“Arran absolutely loves drawing club, and it’s such an engaging and fun club – only positive things to say!”

“My 10-year-old son, Vyshak, is thoroughly enjoying his drawing lessons with Alexandra. She is a wonderful tutor who understands the needs and interests of each child and tailors her approach to help them develop their skills.

Vyshak's drawing skills have improved significantly, and he never misses a lesson. Highly recommend Alexandra!”
